WELCOME TO THE TILLAMOOK COAST

Welcome to the beautiful Tillamook Coast. We are glad you are here. Tillamook County is a place of spectacular natural beauty spanning 70 miles of coastline and extending inland to include working farms, multiple rivers and vast forests that follow the contours of the coast range.

The Tillamook Forest Center on Hwy 6 is a great place to visit and take the kids for a fun and educational experience that will orient you to the history and nature of the Tillamook State Forest.

We are a proud dairy farming community and encourage you to visit the newly remodeled Tillamook County Creamery Association Visitors Center to sample the best cheese in the world and learn more about our dairy farming heritage.

We have delightful farmers markets in Manzanita, Tillamook, Pacific City and Neskowin. Visitors and locals gather at the markets weekly to choose from local bounty including organic produce, fresh fish, pasture raised meats, local cheeses, baked goods, flowers and art. Check out the North Coast Food Trail to engage with local farmers, fishermen (and fisherwomen) and producers of all things delicious.

Bring your family to the Tillamook County Fair! We work hard to deliver an excellent, old-fashioned farm community fair featuring the legendary Pig-n-Ford races - a long-standing local attraction that you won't find anywhere else.

Take a scenic train ride along the coast, visit one of our outstanding local museums, and stop in at the Tillamook Area Chamber of Commerce in downtown Tillamook, the Rockaway Beach Visitors Center in the red caboose at the wayside, or the Manzanita Visitor Center for more information on local events and goings on.

Enjoy and thanks for visiting us.

Enjoy the Tillamook Coast

Whether you love the mountains, forests, rivers, bays or beaches, you'll find it here on the Tillamook Coast. There's so much to do— outdoor recreation, fresh and local foods, arts and cultural heritage, century farms and scenic views.

Love to hike? We've got trails for all abilities. Want to learn to kayak, fish or go crabbing? We have people who can teach you. Enjoy history? Our county has more than a dozen cultural organizations where you can hear our stories. Or maybe you want to enjoy a delicious seafood dinner while you gaze out at the ocean. We've got that, too.

We deeply care for our coast and hope you'll feel like an honorary local while you're here.

CARE FOR THE COAST

A legacy of environmental stewardship is what it means to be an Oregonian. On the Tillamook Coast, we've cared for our forests, farmlands, beaches and waterways for generations. It's in our DNA, and we bet it's in yours, too. We love when you visit, and we hope you'll become a temporary local while here. Put trash in garbage cans, stay on trails, respect private property, follow beach fire rules, and take precaution on the beach. And make sure you come back again soon.

FOOD & DRINK

on the Tillamook Coast

▼ Food Trucks 🐾 ♿

Food trucks are all the rage here on the Tillamook Coast. Travel-size kitchens dot the coastline, serving up diverse cuisine. What makes a chicken teriyaki dish Hawaiian? When it's served with rice and macaroni salad at Nani Papa'a-Teri-Trucky. Sea Baron Fish & Chips serves up the local catch. Gone are the days of plain, boring food; instead play it up at Recess. 'Flavors on First' in downtown Tillamook houses more than five trucks, making it a worthwhile stop for lunch.

▲ Farmers Markets &

You know what the best souvenirs from the Tillamook Coast are? Fresh flowers, produce, and locally-made products; it doesn't get much better than that! With four different summer locations, there's a Farmers Market close to wherever your adventures take you.

▲ Not just known for dairy

The Tillamook Coast is known for its meat, so why not take your taste buds on an adventure tour? Places like Debbie D's Jerky & Sausage, Tillamook Meats, The Tillamook Country Smoker Outlet, and Werner Gourmet Meats offer some of the boldest flavors and freshest sausage around.

▼ Tillamook Creamery &

There's just one spot along the Tillamook Coast where you can indulge in an ice cream cone, taste an award-winning grilled cheese sandwich and bring home a bag of "squeaky cheese," all while learning what goes into making world-famous Tillamook cheese. We'll meet you there.

Tillamook Creamery, Tillamook

▼ Wine Tasting

Step back Napa Valley, the Tillamook Coast is getting winery. Inside a former Jersey farm barn, you'll find the now-famous Blue Heron French Cheese Company where they offer daily wine and cheese tastings. The Winery at Manzanita is dog and people-friendly. Pick your favorite wine and order a picnic lunch to go for you and Fido. Or visit Nehalem Bay Winery, the Coast's original winery. Twist Wine in Pacific City offers the owners' own vineyard wine.

Garibaldi Portside Bistro

It's a calm Thursday night near the Port of Garibaldi. Still seas. Red sky. Boats bobbing softly in the water. But the kitchen is buzzing at the Garibaldi Portside Bistro. Customers pack the dining room, salivating at the smells wafting from the kitchen.

It's no surprise that people have driven miles to eat here. Behind the scenes, Cordon Bleu-trained chef Dennis Cavitt is at work. Smoked meats, his specialty, fly out the kitchen door—while only empty dishes return.

“I’m passionate about what we do,” Cavitt says. “We’re friendly. We produce good, quality products. We’re doing something different.”

He explains that he grew up vacationing in the area. “There are pictures of me in my mom’s stomach in Garibaldi,” he says. Then he brought Amanda. The first summer they came, they were dating. Then married. And then, with a baby. It felt like home.

In 2016, the couple opened the Garibaldi Portside Bistro with a menu full of refined comfort foods. The most popular? By far the Blueberry Goat Cheese Burger: a half-pound patty, topped with goat cheese, bacon, blueberry sauce, tomato, onion, avocado, mixed greens and aioli.

“It’s something I came up with two years ago for Mother’s Day,” Dennis says. And it’s remained a fixture on the menu. His ingenuity is always leading to new creations that customers love. Like the time he spent the morning cooking crab for crab melts: they sold out in 30 minutes.

Amanda grins as she says the “permanent cologne” of her family is now smoked wood, but they’re doing what they love. “We had some really great supporters from the get-go,” she says. “We wouldn’t be this far along if it wasn’t for some of our customers who have become friends.”

Their success spurred them forward and Dennis and Amanda recently acquired the former Troller Restaurant and spend a significant amount of time remodeling their newly, expanded location.

Looking around their new space, with a 180-degree view of Tillamook Bay, Dennis and Amanda are filled with gratitude. “We’re so grateful about where we’ve gotten to,” Dennis says. “It’s about relationships. We truly love what we do. I want to make people happy.”

▼ Dig into everything our region has to offer:
It's a one-of-a-kind culinary journey

Gear up for an adventure that will delight all your senses and leave you with plenty of amazing memories. From Seaside through the Tillamook Coast, Oregon's North Coast is a beautiful region, bursting with local flavor.

On this self-guided tour down the shoreline, you'll curate the experiences you want—choose from farmers markets, fine dining restaurants, food carts, breweries, farm tours and much more.

▲ Shop at the Docks

Commercial fishing is a heritage industry that continues to play an active and vital role in the identity and local economy of the Tillamook Coast. The Explore Nature Series, in partnership with the Oregon State University Sea Grant program, provides Shop at the Dock tours each summer and fall in Garibaldi. Both an opportunity to share about Oregon's sustainable fisheries and help people feel comfortable visiting the historic working waterfront.

Get a behind-the-scenes tour of the commercial docks and where to buy seafood directly – be it “off the boat” or at one of the independent local seafood markets. You’ll gain a better understanding about why purchasing locally-caught seafood is an important step in supporting the local economy and learn best buying tips: what to look for and what questions to ask, thus ensuring that a trip to the Port of Garibaldi for seafood is worth the effort – no matter what time of year.

▼ Crave the Coast

Join us for Crave the Coast food festival, celebrating the bounty of the North Oregon Coast under the event tent in Garibaldi each year on the last Saturday in September.

▼ Breweries & Bars

Learn to drink whiskey from an expert, sample wild fermentation beer, visit the home of the Kiwanda Cream ale: all at the Tillamook Coast. Seriously.

Chip at MacGregor's Whiskey Bar will tell you whiskey served neat or on the rocks is a personal preference. de Garde will take you to the wild side with their ales. Werner's Beef and Brew is another local favorite, with local brews and great sandwiches.

▼ Picnics To Go

Pick up some locally made goods, pack a picnic, and pick your favorite spot on the coast to sit down and enjoy life. Find locally-made products at Manzanita Fresh Foods, Little Apple Market, Blue Heron French Cheese Company, or Neskowin Trading Company.

Chef profile: Jake Burden Offshore Grill

While on vacation in Rockaway Beach, bring the family on down to town to enjoy the exquisite delectables that the Offshore Grill and Coffee House has to offer.

The location has a dual personality as a coffee shop and restaurant. A few years back, Chef Jake Burden's family had hit a period of dramatic events. When the previous owners of the Offshore Grill came to them and offered their location, Jake took it as a sign.

“It was a sign that was offered to us,” Burden said. “It all clicked, it all seemed to just fit. The timing worked so well for us in where we were with everything. Michelle and I found ourselves literally being offered the dream we’d always talked about doing: opening our own restaurant.”

The Offshore offers some of the finest ingredients including fresh produce from Brickyard Farms, grass fed meats from Nehalem River Ranch, and the freshest seafood around from Garibaldi's Community Supported Fishery.

“It's truly our passion,” Jake said.

Seed to Sip at North Fork 53

The North Coast's only tea-growing farm

On the banks of the Nehalem River sits a 1930s farmhouse. It's tucked away on Highway 53, surrounded by lush vegetation of the valley.

Inside, Ginger and Brigham Edwards brew tea. It's a far cry from preparing a supermarket teabag. The water is warmed to 180 degrees.

A mixture of teas is selected for optimal nourishment. It steeps for only a few minutes.

And then, it's time to sit. Sit and watch the river run by. Sit and melt into the lush valley. Sit and watch the very tea in your cup, grow in the garden.

"The beauty of tea is this...you get to sit down," Ginger said. "It's this moment in our day to sit and reconnect with each other. We associate it with happiness and that's what we wanted to create on our farm. Isn't that a good place to start?"

Ginger and Brigham's North Fork 53 Coastal Retreat and Tea Gardens, located just 10 minutes outside of Nehalem, is the first farm to grow tea commercially on the West Coast. And of only 12 in the entire country.

In 2007, Ginger began sustainably farming a small plot of land in Nehalem with hand-sown carrots and potatoes. In 2015, her and Brigham purchased the North Fork 53 farmhouse that was originally an 1895 homestead. Milk from the farm would be loaded onto boats on the river and sent downstream to the Mohler Creamery.

Currently 250 tea plants grow on the three-acre property, but their goal is to have 1,000. The home features four rooms that can be rented out individually or for group trips.

While staying at the Retreat Center, visitors can tour the tea gardens and are welcome to sample the bounty from the tea bar.

"Tea is a cultural experience," Ginger said. "Tea can be a year-round experience. In the garden, during the summer: iced. Steamed in the winter. Tea gives you that medicinal nourishment into your body right away and feels that affect."

If you can't get to North Fork 53, they'll send their tea to you. With a Communithea Subscription, you will receive the tea of the month straight from Nehalem, to wherever your front door is. Seed to sip every time.

"Our goal is to get as many people to taste it as possible," Ginger said.

Every morning begins with a commitment to quality.

From day one, we've stood behind the honest values of our farmer-owners. It's from them we've learned that passion can't be faked, hard work can't be outsmarted and real food is worth fighting for. Visit the Creamery to learn more about what drives us and our dairy done right approach.

Bring the entire family! There's something fun for everyone to enjoy. Come watch our award-winning cheese being made, play with interactive exhibits, try out our Food Hall menu and taste and shop for all things Tillamook.

SURF

on the
Tillamook Coast

▼ Surfing

The perfect wave might last only a few seconds, but that thrill keeps bringing you surfers back to the beach. In fact, the hunt for that once-in-a-lifetime wave is almost a sport in itself, isn't it? Locals in our area prefer the swells in Pacific City, Manzanita, and Oceanside. Take lessons through Moment Surf Company if you're new to the sport. Surf's up!

▲ Kayaking

What's the best thing about a kayak? You can paddle it just about anywhere on the Tillamook Coast. River, bay, lake, or (if you're daring) ocean, just take your pick. Don't have your own kayak and want some help getting started? Kayak Tillamook will take good care of you and your family.

@ tillamookcoast.com/paddle-surf

▲ Longboard Classic

Venture to Pacific City's international longboard surfing competition for the thrill of a lifetime. Watch as surfers catch waves, with the picturesque Cape Kiwanda Haystack Rock in the background. Whether you already enjoy the sport, or want to learn more, you'll really like the local cuisine and ales at this three-day fall event.

▼ SUP

Don't be intimidated by standup paddleboards. With the help of an instructor at SUP Manzanita, you'll quickly catch on and soon be gliding over the water on an oversized surfboard. You're already a pro? Bring your board to the calm waters of Cape Meares Lake or Nehalem River channel to find some peace and serenity.

@ supmanzanita.com

▼ Water Trail Guides

These four guidebooks, produced by Tillamook Estuaries Partnership, cover both flatwater and whitewater adventures. Printed on waterproof paper, they offer a wealth of information for canoeists, kayakers, standup paddleboard enthusiasts and users of other recreational boats.

@ Visit tbnep.org to order your free Water Trail Guide.

Boogie Boarding & water safety

If you're looking for a boarding adventure the whole family can enjoy, rent some wetsuits and boogie boards and go hit the water.

Boogie boarding is a great way to catch some waves while staying in the shallows. Flamingo Jim's in Rockaway, Bahama Mama's in Manzanita, and Moment Surf Company in Pacific City are a few places that provide all the equipment you need to get out there and get boogie boarding.

While there is a lot of fun to be had along the Tillamook Coast, please be aware of the dangers associated with ocean activities. Oregon's beaches are not manned by lifeguards, so it is up to you to take the necessary precautions to have a safe, fun trip to the beach. Sneaker waves and riptides make up the majority of rescue attempts, so it is important to be informed about the signs and characteristics of these hazards.

A person with long hair, wearing a dark jacket and leggings, is seen from behind walking a black and white dog on a leash along a dirt path in a lush forest. The path is surrounded by dense green foliage and large trees. The scene is bathed in soft, natural light.

HIKE

on the

Tillamook Coast

▼ Hikes so awesome, we had to write a book

Hiking expert and travel guidebook author Adam Sawyer shares his choices for the best hikes on Oregon's Tillamook Coast. From a thigh-pumping trek to the top of Neahkahnie Mountain to a leisurely stroll through Kilchis Point Reserve, hikers will find the trail just right for their adventure in this 90-page guide.

@ tillamookcoast.com/books

▼ Most Popular Spots

Neahkahnie Mountain

This thigh-thumping hike starts at Oswald West State Park (look for hiker-symbol between milepost 41-42 on Highway 101), but rewards you with a breath-taking view of the long stretch of beach below near Manzanita.

Munson Creek Falls

Tillamook's perhaps shortest hike (at just one-quarter mile) takes you to its tallest waterfall, at 319 feet. Go in the rainy season when the falls are gushing and ferns are dripping with dew. Located seven miles south of Tillamook.

Kings Mountain

Five miles of rugged trail with a 2,500-foot gain in elevation (and some of it steep), this hike starts at a trail head off the Wilson River Highway (Highway 6, milepost 25). From the summit, take in the awe of the Lester Creek Valley.

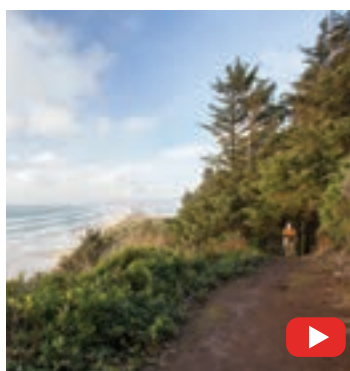

Nestucca Spit

Start at the Bob Straub State Park Trailhead in Pacific City (off Sunset Drive) and walk across the dunes towards the ocean. At spit's end, harbor seals and fishermen vie for the Nestucca River's legendary salmon and steelhead.

Cape Meares

Take the short jaunt to the lighthouse or Octopus Tree (at the end of the Cape Meares Loop), or lace up your boots and hike the 885-foot trail down to the beach, passing by the 144-foot tall Big Spruce that's 4-feet in diameter.

Cape Lookout

The 5-plus mile round-trip trail offers one of the best whale-watching perches on the Oregon Coast. Trail starts out flat, then drops slightly toward the tip of the cape, with steep cliffs. The Trailhead is 8 miles south of Netarts.

Cape Kiwanda

The hike up the sandy, 230-foot dune of Cape Kiwanda in Pacific City is relatively easy, and it rewards with views of dory launches and landings, and crashing waves aloft with surfers. Coming down is easy – just slide on your butt.

Mt. Hebo

The tallest peak in the Coast Range, a hike up this mountain starts at Hebo Lake Campground. Look for Indian Trail. You'll pass through two forest meadows before reaching the peak and a glimpse of the ocean.

BIKE & RIDE

on the

▲ Off Road

The Tillamook Forest, if it isn't already, should be your destination of choice for mountain biking. The Wilson River Trail isn't exactly flying under the radar. There's a popular trail that extends 20-plus miles through the coast range between Tillamook and Portland. Or take your mountain bikes up to the summit of Highway 6 where you'll find several other biking trailheads that are interconnected.

Pacific City

▲ Horseback Riding

Looking for a bit more wind in your hair at the Tillamook Coast? Pick beach or mountain trail with Green Acres Beach & Trail Rides and channel your inner buckaroo. For all you experienced riders out there, bring your horse camping with you at Nehalem Bay State Park. There are campsites for you, and outdoor stalls for your four-legged friend.

@ Schedule your ride at beach-rides.com

▼ Railriders Cycling

There are only three places you can ride pedal-powered railbikes in Oregon, and the Tillamook Coast is one of them! Railriders depart from Bay City or Wheeler and see views that can only be accessed from the tracks. How neat of an experience is that?

@ Schedule your ride at ocrailriders.com

▼ Sandlake ATV

Sandlake is exactly as it sounds: a lake of sand. People come for the dunes and the plumes. You can bring your own, or rent a mini dune buggy or quad from Sandlake Tsunami ATV Rental and ride the dunes yourself. And if you get bored (not likely), nearby is the Sand Lake Estuary. Here you'll find great places to swim, fish, crab, kayak, and hike.

Beach Bikes & where to rent

As you could probably ascertain by the name, fat bikes are sturdy. If a mountain bike and a Hummer had a baby, it would be a fat bike. They ride as comfortably as beach cruisers but have the gear range and tire contact patch/traction to take you over terrain you probably didn't think was possible. If you've got the motor, fat bikes can probably get you up, over, or through it.

Bahama Mama's in Manzanita rents tire bikes and sit down cruisers ready to cruise the beautiful beach in style. Call or visit in person to set up rental: (503) 368-BIKE, 123 Laneda Ave, Manzanita.

In Rockaway Beach? Troxel's rents fat bikes too!

Both Manzanita Visitors Center and Troxels Gem & Jewelry Co. loan out free fat-tire wheelchairs for beach accessibility.

Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad

It was the late 1800s. Portland was rapidly growing.

Out on the coast, most of the land had been claimed. But suddenly, people in the small coastal villages noticed there was no way to get their products to the bigger cities.

“The market was very undependable getting dairy to market,” Historian Mark Beach said. “By the time the railroad comes to Tillamook; Garibaldi, Bay City, and Nehalem are the only real established towns at that time in 1906-07.”

The first train reached Tillamook in November, 1911 via the Salmonberry River west from Portland, south from Mohler through Wheeler, Rockaway Beach and Garibaldi, to Tillamook. The construction of the railroad along the Tillamook Coast encouraged real estate and timber sales alike.

With a much easier trip to the area, people flocked to the beach for tourism. Beach’s research details that for many years, trains would stop for locals hitching rides to fish up the Salmonberry. Commuter service from Wheeler to Tillamook proved immediately popular as travel by auto or horse required the long journey via Miami/Foley Road.

The rails also made it easier for products to be transported back and forth between the villages and the metropolitan markets.

“Suddenly, you can cut the logs and bring them down and convert them into lumber and sent back to Portland,” said Beach.

Through the 1920’s, people in the area were making money, hand over fist. After the Great Depression, the railroad saw an increase in business in the 50s when lumber was profitable.

In 1996, the Port of Tillamook Bay took over the operations of the railroad. As a symbol of the times, Beach notes, the engine painted like a Holstein became a familiar site on the rail line.

Then, in 2003, Scott and Kim Wickert founded the Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad. They spent weekend runs from Garibaldi to Rockaway Beach and Wheeler, dodging freight trains while they conducted their historic steam train tours.

After 2007, Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad became the sole operator of 46 miles of the railroad, and continues to be to this day.

▲ Crabbing

There are five rivers that flow into Tillamook Bay, producing some of the best bay fishing, clam digging and crabbing west of the Mississippi. Nehalem Bay, Tillamook Bay, and Netarts Bay all have local marinas where boats and equipment can be rented and bait purchased.

Jetty Fishery also offers a guided experience. You can harvest crabs directly from the docks at the marinas. You can secure the necessary supplies for Nestucca Bay in nearby Pacific City. Several other marinas in Tillamook County include Garibaldi Marina, Kelly's Brighton Marina, Netarts Bay Marina, and Wheeler Marina, which are also great Oregon Coast crabbing spots.

Didn't get your Dungeness crab today? That's okay: head back to Kelly's Brighton Marina and watch as the staff pulls a Dungeness crab from the live well, cooks, and cleans it. Then you get to eat it!

▼ Fishing

Fishing on Oregon's Tillamook Coast is a year-round activity. With three bays, five major rivers (and several smaller ones), a couple of lakes and of course, the Pacific Ocean, you can fish the way you want – fly fishing, deep sea, dock, boat or dory.

Salmon, steelhead, tuna and lingcod are the top four – but there's lots more to catch, including dinner. Go out on your own or with a guide. For an unforgettable experience, launch from the beach in Pacific City with the dory fleet.

▼ Clamming

Gear up with your rain jacket, a bucket, shovel and some die-hard determination, and you can dig up tonight's dinner just beneath the surface. Digging for clams takes a little research and just the right timing. It's exhilarating, like digging for lost treasure. Your best bet is to go during a minus tide. Spring and summer months are best. Make sure you get a shiny new Oregon shellfish license first!

Dory Boat Fishing

@ Pacific City

Almost as iconic as Haystack Rock, Dory boats have become a symbol of Cape Kiwanda. Traditional dories have been used for hundreds of years, not just in the Northwest but across North America. They were designed to carry thousands of pounds of wet fish and have been known, historically, for their sturdy design—allowing them to carry a heavy load for their relatively modest size, without capsizing.

However, they serve as more than just an icon for this beautiful area; they also provide a unique fishing opportunity. There are a variety of dory boat-chartered trips available in Pacific City including bottom fish, salmon, halibut, and Dungeness crab. Adventurers will also get to experience the thrill of a dory boat beach launch and landing!

Help keep our waters pristine

Visitors are drawn to the Tillamook Coast for the miles and miles of waterline. And local residents and visitors work very hard to keep them pristine.

“When people come recreate they want to see healthy streams and lush forests and they appreciate that,” Tillamook Estuaries Partnership [TEP] Deputy Director Claudine Rehn said.

TEP is a part of 28 National Estuary Projects in the United States that works to protect and restore the health of estuaries. TEP’s work currently encompasses all bays and watersheds in Tillamook County. The organization works to address loss of fish and wildlife, water quality, erosion, education, and citizen involvement and stewardship.

“We found that giving visitors and residents a good sense of place makes them advocates,” Rehn said. “We find that people really want to play an active role. We are the ones that live here, but that doesn’t mean we are the only ones responsible for that.”

Residents and visitors to the area are encouraged to participate in TEP stewardship programs including clean up days.

“Clean up days are when we see the most visitors. They see it happening and spontaneously join,” Rehn said.

In addition to clean up days, the public is invited to TEP’s educational days as a part of the Explore Nature Series: a collaboration between numerous environmental organizations that hosted 74 events this past year. Events included walks through the Kilchis Estuary, mushroom adventures, and Shop at the Dock events in Garibaldi.

“It’s exceeded our expectations,” Rehn said. “People are very interested in knowing about where they live. They want to learn why their resources are important or how they function.”

Visitors are also increasingly more curious about the landscape and environmental health of their vacation spot.

“People are really interested in learning, not just getting a souvenir, but some knowledge,” Rehn said.

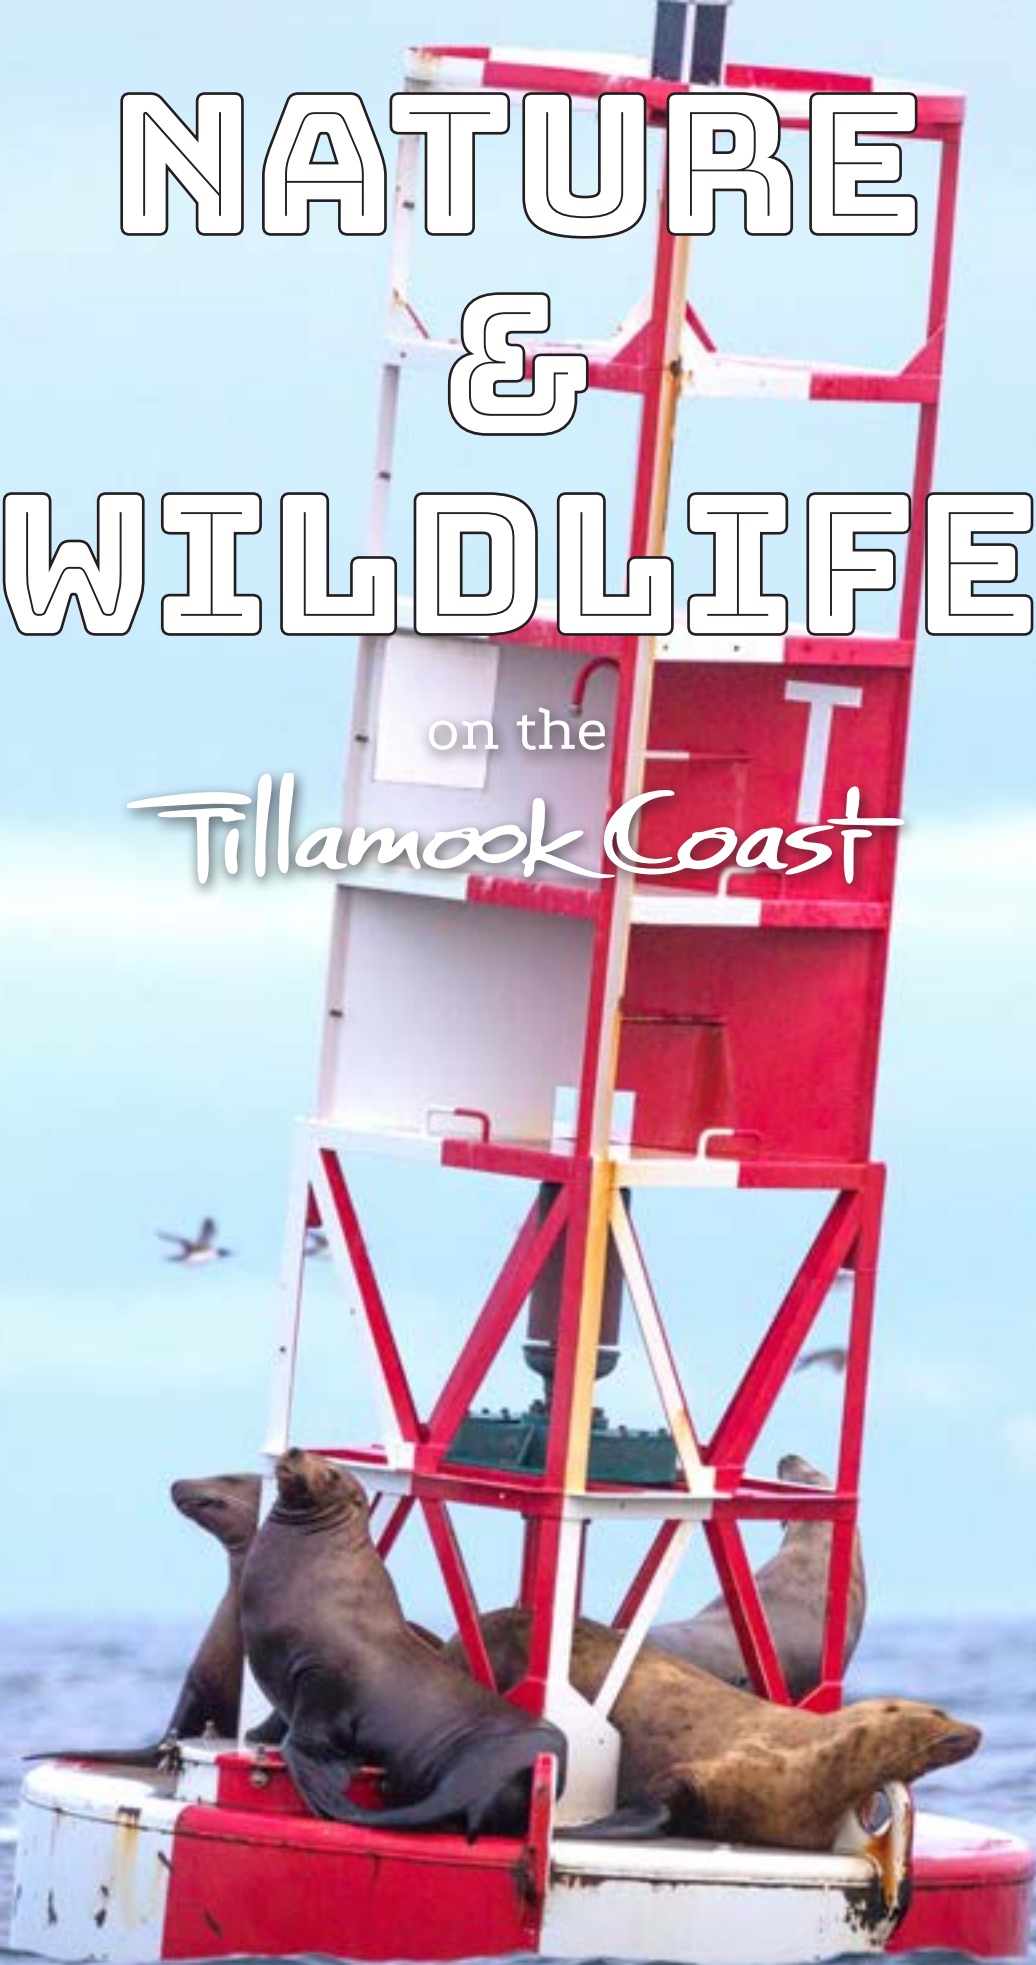

For a list of Explore Nature Events visit their website:

NATURE & WILDLIFE

on the
Tillamook Coast

▼ Find your best nature spot

One of the best kept secrets of the Tillamook Coast is the number of nature and wildlife reserves to explore. From Manzanita to Neskowin, and all places in between, there are many protected areas to hike, stroll, watch birds, spot wildlife and learn about natural history.

@ Learn more at tillamookcoast.com/wildlife-viewing

Bayocean Spit

With the bay on one side, and a wide expansive beach on the other – connected by sandy trails lined with salal and sword fern – Bayocean Spit, located near the village of Cape Meares, is a hiking and birding hotspot, and home to beaver and deer.

@ More on birding at tillamookcoast.com/bird-watching

Cape Meares National Wildlife Refuge

Just north of Oceanside (at the end of the Cape Meares Loop), lush with moss-draped trees, this refuge is a green haven for those wanting to recharge their spirits and view wildlife, too. The refuge is near Cape Meares Lighthouse, which offers its own brand of viewing and history.

Three Arch Rocks National Wildlife Refuge

This untamed marine environment in Oceanside features big colonies of seabirds that hang out on offshore rocks. Peregrine falcons, common mures and other seabirds nest as whales and sea lions frolic in the waters below.

Whalen Island

Clay Myers State Natural Area on Whalen Island just north of Pacific City offers a pristine 1.4-mile loop hike that overlooks a rich tidal wetland before passing through mixed woodlands, offering views of the estuary joining the ocean.

Kilchis Point Reserve

Near Bay City, this interpretive trail weaves wildlife, pioneer history and Native American history in one beautiful reserve. The trails – all ADA friendly – lead to a birdwatching station and a view of Tillamook Bay untouched by civilization.

Nestucca Bay National Wildlife Refuge

Welcome to Nestucca Bay National Wildlife Refuge. It offers more than 1,200 acres of refuge south of Pacific City and winter habitat for varieties of geese, including the rare Semidi Islands goose. Black-tailed deer and harbor seals also call this place home.

Sand Lake Estuary

Oregon has 22 major estuaries, but only five are so untouched that they are classified as “natural.” North of Pacific City, the 897-acre Sand Lake Estuary is the largest of these. A new state park is being developed at the adjoining land, Sitka Sedge State Natural Area.

▲ Marine Reserves

The Tillamook Coast is lucky enough to have two Marine Reserves. Cape Falcon (near Manzanita) has sand that provides the ideal habitat for crabs and other animals that like soft bottom habitats. Along the shore, you'll find rocky intertidal habitats to the north and south of Short Sand Beach, where you can spot mussels and sea anemones attached to the rocks.

Travel south to Pacific City, and you'll enjoy the beginning of Cascade Head Marine Reserve. Underwater here, the reserve includes the north segment of the Siletz Reef. This is an extensive rocky reef home to many species of groundfish such as canary rockfish, invertebrates such as giant plumose anemones, and seaweeds. Marine Reserves are dedicated to conservation and scientific research, so please leave all sea life behind for others to enjoy.

▼ Sitka Sedge State Natural Area

The main trail leading through the new park on the Three Capes drive is where you will find blooming foxglove, salal and wild rose – the beauty of each will leave you spellbound. So will the abundant bird life and Sitka Sedge grasses that grow along the wetland edges.

▼ Whale Watching

Contrary to popular belief, whale watching can be a year-round activity with gray whales the most commonly seen. Almost any location with an ocean view may offer whale sightings. You will have a better chance of spotting a whale in the morning. First scan the ocean for spouting and then zoom in more closely with binoculars. To get an even closer view, consider whale watching from a charter boat; Linda Sue and Garibaldi Charters are good options.

A new cheese in town

Nestucca Bay Creamery

Amy Seymour's great-grandmother used to make and sell butter from a couple of milk cows.

These days, Amy is milking 300 cows on the same, and additional, land her forefathers worked. She's also using 1,000 pounds of that milk a day to make and sell camembert, brie, gouda and havarti cheeses at the Nestucca Bay Creamery Cheese shop in Cloverdale. The shop is just a few miles from where her pioneering family's roots were first established close to 150 years ago.

Amy's grandfather and father were proud members of the Tillamook County Creamery Association. Amy is too. As member/owners in the 109-year-old company, she and her husband Rob Seymour sell the bulk of their cow milk to be made into Tillamook Cheese.

"We're still producers for Tillamook Cheese," Amy enthused. "It's a great company."

Yet something inside Amy yearned to make cheese herself. Maybe that yearning was because one of the couple's three sons, Will Seymour, had a passion for local food. Perhaps it was her ancestral roots beckoning with age-old knowledge.

In her core, Amy understands what those pioneering ancestors discovered: there is a sweetly unique flavoring of milk made by pastured cattle grazing in the salty sea air—that is found in just a few places in the world.

Previous dairying generations in Tillamook County chose to develop cheddar cheese, aged slowly to bring out that taste sensation. Was now the time to try out other old-world cheeses aged in a similar fashion? Amy thought yes.

"We've talked about it for years," she said. "Wherever we travel, we visit little cheese factories. We love cheese! It was always something to do but we never got around to it."

They began the permitting process to convert an old milkhouse into a certified cheese-making facility.

In 2017, Nestucca Bay Creamery had a soft opening, debuting cheeses at area farmers markets. Amy was surprised by the reception.

"I just said, 'We'll make cheese and sell it and we'll see what happens.' I had no expectations for it and was surprised by how popular it was. I was really encouraged by that."

Look for Nestucca Bay Creamery Cheese at their shop in Cloverdale.

▼ Tillamook Coast History

Have you learned about the treasure allegedly buried on Neahkahnie Mountain? Or have you heard the story of the first pilgrim who built his house inside a tree stump? What about the town built along Bayocean Spit that fell into the ocean? You'll learn about these stories and many more during a trip to the Tillamook County Pioneer Museum.

After you stop by the Museum, go out and see the living history yourself. Textile arts are not only preserved, but created on a daily basis at the Latimer Quilt & Textile Center. Gaze out at the same bay Captain Robert Gray sailed from the door of the Garibaldi Museum. Imagine soaring about the coast onboard a World War II blimp at the Tillamook Air Museum. Get your copy of 25 Cultural Adventures on the Tillamook Coast.

Tillamook Quilt Trail

@ tillamookquilttrail.org

Quilts have been part of Tillamook County since the early pioneers arrived. As you drive the country and coastal roads of the Tillamook Coast, look for large, colorful wooden quilt blocks on barns and buildings – there are 104 of them! Pick up a Quilt Trail map at the visitor center!

Garibaldi Maritime Museum

@ garibaldimuseum.org

Located in the fishing village of Garibaldi, this museum is a treasure of local maritime history, told through the adventures of Captain Robert Gray and his sailing ship, the Columbia Rediviva, which sailed to the Pacific Northwest in search of the Columbia River.

Latimer Quilt & Textile Center

@ latimerquiltandtextile.com

Call ahead to schedule a bed turning. You'll be treated to a short history of each of 10 to 12 quilts and discover how long it took the creator to craft all the intricate stitches. Latimer is a working museum, where friends teach others the art of textiles.

Tillamook Forest Center

@ tillamookforestcenter.org

The Tillamook Forest Center is a shining jewel on the Tillamook Coast. An engaging interpretive center tells the story of the historic Tillamook Burn and reforestation. Don't miss the powerful film, Legacy of Fire, shown in the center's surround-sound theater.

Firehouse Museum

The Tillamook Firehouse Museum, in memory of Assistant Fire Chief Michael Ellerbrook, houses memorabilia that features the history of the Tillamook Fire Department. Located at E&E Auto Center in Tillamook, admission is free of charge and open Monday-Friday.

Tillamook County Pioneer Museum

@ tcpm.org

In downtown Tillamook, three floors showcase Native American artifacts, a 1911 stage coach, the natural history of local animals and birds, logging displays and much more. The 35,000 plus objects on display all point to the area's rich cultural history.

Tillamook Air Museum

@ tillamookair.com

Housed in the largest, freestanding wooden structure in North America, this former blimp hangar now showcases a collection of vintage aircraft, WWII memorabilia, first hand documentations, uniforms and amazing photography.

International Police Museum

@ internationalpolicemuseum.org

The International Police Museum in Rockaway Beach helps tell the real story of police officers. The museum has many displays with historic and modern items from around the world including uniforms, restraints, badges, weapons and other tools. Admission is free.

Latimer Quilt and Textile Center

Open the door to the Latimer Quilt and Textile Center in Tillamook and it's as if you, like Lewis Carroll's famous Alice, have fallen through the looking glass and landed squarely into an alternate world.

What makes this place special?

First, the center is a museum and is open to the public: anyone can pay the $4 museum admission and see the beautiful rotating textile exhibits. Some of those exhibits are local history pieces while others are on loan from areas near and far.

The center also boasts hands-on classes taught by talented instructors. It's very common for both local and regional museum members to come take a class and end up staying for hours to help with other classes, or to volunteer. The Latimer Center has always been a space where questions are encouraged and skills are taught for the joy of learning.

More than a century ago, young scholars gathered in the building to learn math, writing and history. Back then it was called the Maple Leaf School. Today spinners and weavers, tatters and quilters, knitters and all sorts of artisans gather to work and learn. Museum goers are often astounded and delighted to see weavers working on vintage looms.

The Latimer Center is also a store. On the walls and along the walkways quality quilts and rugs, doilies and dolls, all made by local artists are for sale.

Finally, the Latimer Center is a repository. It is a place that preserves and archives textile artifacts from Tillamook County History. The repository is an invaluable piece to the center's community importance.

Built in 1995, the repository houses over 400 quilts and 300 textile artifacts. Volunteers work at cataloging the items. A team from the center travels to quilt shows and artisan fairs to showcase the center's artifacts. The oldest piece on display at the center is a hand-sewn quilt dating to 1878.

Donated quilts sometimes get deposited on the center's front doorstep. Other times, they have been mailed from across the country. In some instances, loved ones have carefully delivered family heirlooms and after deciding to donate the piece, have left with tears in their eyes, Carol said.

Visitors are welcome to tour the repository, but they need to call and arrange a touring time prior to their trip so that an additional staff member can lead their tour.

▼ Trees to Sea Scenic Byway

The 68 mile Trees to Sea Scenic Byway begins at the trailhead for the Banks-Vernonia State Trail in Banks, Oregon and proceeds down Main Street (Highway 47) to turn west on State Highway 6 near Mile Marker 49 to head toward the City of Tillamook.

The route then arcs north and west on Tillamook County's Wilson River Loop and Latimer Roads, in order to turn south on Highway 101 before turning right on State Highway 131 (Third Street in the City of Tillamook) for almost its full length until it ends at Cape Meares Lighthouse.

The Trees to Sea Scenic Byway route combines an abundance of local agriculture and forestry, history, and natural scenery in a manner where the sum is stronger than the individual parts. The traveler will witness a broad spectrum of intrinsic qualities ranging from the vast variety of scenic, historic, natural, and forestry values to be found when exploring the agricultural delights of rural western Washington County, passing through the Tillamook State Forest, moving along the Cape Meares peninsula, and viewing the expanse of the Tillamook Bay watershed. When travelers stop, they will be amazed by the extensive menu of ready recreational tangents onto which they can launch.

Three Capes Scenic Route

& a tree or two

Oceanside

If you're looking for the most breathtaking views of the Tillamook Coast, the Three Capes Scenic Route is the perfect place to start.

Beginning in downtown Tillamook, this short 40-mile jaunt along the water reveals some of the most majestic natural landscapes that the Oregon Coast has to offer. The road is easy to follow, with ample signage that leads travelers west of Tillamook, angling around Tillamook Bay and Bay Ocean Spit, to Cape Meares Route.

As the scenic loop continues from Tillamook toward Oceanside, you'll be thrilled at the mesmerizing ocean views that have left people speechless for centuries.

Watch the ocean meet tranquil Netarts Bay (stop a while and go clamming at this popular shellfishing spot—just make sure you have a license before you head out!) as you travel up to Cape Lookout, where you are in a prime position to see the entire Tillamook coastline. Trek through the old-growth forest and along the beach here to stretch your legs.

From there, the road takes you through the Sandlake dunes into Pacific City, where Haystack Rock juts up from the depths of the Pacific Ocean at Cape Kiwanda. Drink in the magnificent view of this iconic coastal landmark.

▼ NCRD Performing Arts Center (Nehalem)

Being on vacation doesn't mean you have to miss your trip to the gym. Plus, while visiting Nehalem you can walk through an art gallery, and catch a show, after you pump some iron.

Set in a beautiful historic building at the top of the hill in Nehalem, the North County Recreation District [NCRD] has a swimming pool, exercise center, and a newly remodeled theatre. The NCRD offers drop-in daycare during the summer months and boasts an art, science, and theatre camp every summer. Year-round art shows and musical performances, such as Winterfest make the NCRD a cultural hotspot.

Artist profile: Eric Sappington

Scraps of wood, house paint: rubbish to most people.

But, when Eric Sappington turns on the electronic music in his studio, those discarded objects become art.

Tucked away in the hillside of the Oregon Coast, Sappington creates pieces full of color, texture, and movement that he classifies as abstract expressionism.

"It's all really fluid," Sappington said. "I get lost in it, and that's good. Once I figure out something, it happens by accident."

Along with being a visual artist, Sappington is a singer/songwriter. Fans enjoy his laid back style and dedication to creating an experience, not just a performance.

"I've never written down my song lyrics, most of them are free flow," Sappington said. "I just start with a melody or my guitar and start making up words. I let it come to me."

Find Sappington with his guitar at the Fairview Grange of Tillamook, first Saturdays for open mic from 6-8 pm. Soup and salad dinner by donation.

2020 SEASON | NCRD
RIVERBEND PLAYERS
Community Theater Group for Northwest Oregon

Riverbend Players has been the resident community theater troupe at NCRD Performing Arts Center in Nehalem since 2003. Our mission is to create and experience vibrant community theater. Initially formed as a readers theater group, our production company has grown into its own non-profit organization.

We put on four productions a year at NCRD including staged plays, reader's theater and musicals. We offer the opportunity to share and develop creative and artistic talent for all ages in a variety of genres, including drama, comedy, readers theater, musicals, mystery, and improvisation.

We always welcome new members. This year, we are also planning a theater educational workshop.

If you are interested in being involved, either on the stage or off, please contact us by email at riverbendplayers0208@gmail.com.

You can also support Riverbend Players with a financial donation. All donations are tax deductible.

Be a steward At Alder Creek Farm

Walking through Alder Creek Farm, you can tell the place is alive.

The creek trickles by. The ducks quack in the garden. Trees blossom and seeds sprout.

It's a place where the community gathers to grow vegetables and fruit, to celebrate the harvest, to preserve a little piece of Nehalem.

Alder Creek Farm houses a community garden, greenhouse, ethnobotanical trail, native plant nursery and a 50-acre wildlife sanctuary on the north edge of Nehalem Bay.

Every week (March through October), 40 volunteers tend to the community garden growing berries, vegetables, herbs, fruit, trees, and caring for the farm's ducks.

"The community garden serves the volunteers by way that they can take home food," Stewardship Lead Shane Sjorgren said. "And we provide the local food bank vegetables. So much that they can't take it all."

Gardeners don't tend individual plots, but rather everyone works together as a team focusing on a special area of the garden, like brassicas, nightshades, or the orchard. Native plants onsite give community members an opportunity to learn more about local ecology and traditional medicinal and culinary plant uses.

"It's a center for community activities, learning, and teaching about organic farming," Sjorgren said. "The Lower Nehalem Community Trust's focus is to protect the lands around the area of Nehalem and to keep them natural."

Alder Creek Farm practices composting, mulching, cover crops, worm composting, soil microorganisms, hoop houses, cloches, ducks as alternative pesticide control, plants to attract birds and pollinators, elk and deer fences, hedgerows, renewable irrigation, and rain water catchment systems.

Alder Creek Farm also houses the Nehalem Teaching Trail, a hands-on learning experience that invites audiences to investigate native plants, their habitats, and the ancient Indian traditions surrounding their uses.

"Education-oriented from its very beginning, the Trust's board readily embraced the notion," said Doug Firstbrook, Lower Nehalem Community Trust board member. "There are many diverse ecosystems present on these 55 acres of land. We were alive in the land of possibilities, so a trail based on the regional flora with the opportunity to learn their historical and cultural significances seemed like a natural next step that would benefit the entire community."

"Stewardship Fridays" at Alder Creek Farm involve the community in restoration projects in the area.

Projects have included clearing bamboo and blackberry brush.

"This allows native plants a chance to grow because invasive species shield out the plants," Sjorgren said. "People want to come out and do their part...and that's one way they can feel like they're making an impact."

Every April Alder Creek Farm hosts a popular plant sale of healthy garden starts grown especially for the coastal climate. And every October the Harvest Festival is held to celebrate the bounty of the coast.

Visitors are welcome to peruse the community garden, follow the Nehalem Teaching Trail, or join in on a Stewardship Friday.

CAMP & GLAMP

on the Tillamook Coast

▼ Camping 🐾

The best part about camping on the Tillamook Coast is the choices. Many yurts, tent campsites, and RV parks have ocean views. You can choose secluded and tranquil, or in the center of the beach bustle.

One of the best-kept camping secrets is Barview Jetty County Campground on the north side of the jetty. This Oregon Coast campground offers plenty of tent sites surrounded by native forest and sand dunes, RV sites, hot showers, and trails through the woods to the beach. Or pitch your tent near one of Tillamook's waterways at Kilchis River County or Trask River County Campgrounds.

Tillamook County Parks Department

From the forest, to the water-side, Tillamook County Parks has it all. The Parks Department offers 11 day use areas, 21 boat launches, and 6 campgrounds for visitors to explore. Take your pick and we'll see you there.

@ www.co.tillamook.or.us/gov/parks

Barview Jetty County Campground

Located 1.5 miles north of Garibaldi on Hwy 101, this 160-acre campground is located along the beautiful Pacific Ocean beach. The campground offers excellent surf & jetty fishing, scuba diving, surfing, sightseeing, and beachcombing opportunities. Playground, restrooms, showers, six cabins, 73 full hook-up RV sites and 272 tent sites. Call 503-322-3522 for reservations.

Kilchis River County Campground

There is great river access to launch a drift boat or play in, as well as a playground and open meadow. Located five miles northeast of Tillamook off of Alderbrook Loop Rd. This 110-acre campground is nestled in a beautiful wooded valley along the Kilchis River. Restrooms and showers are available. 63 RV and tent sites. Call 503-842-6694 for reservations.

Trask River County Campground

Twelve miles east of Tillamook the Trask River County Campground can be found where the South and Main Trask River meet. The campground allows river viewing as well as access for anglers. There is also a play center and open meadow. Restrooms and 112 RV and tent sites. Call 503-842-4559 for reservations.

Whalen Island County Campground

Surrounded by the Sand Lake Estuary to the south and Clay Meyers State Park to the north. There is great bird watching, clamming, fishing, and hiking opportunities. Located 4.5 miles north of Cape Kiwanda on the Three Capes Scenic Loop in Pacific City. Call 503-965-6085 for reservations.

Webb County Campground

Located in Pacific City across the road from the beach at Cape Kiwanda Recreation Area. The campground offers easy access to the beach for surf fishing, dory boat launching, surfing, and beachcombing. Restrooms and showers. Eight RV sites and 30 tent sites. Call 503-965-5001 for reservations.

Woods County Campground

The Woods County Campground offers great bank fishing and river access as well as being five minutes from the beach. Located on the south bank of the Big Nestucca River in Pacific City. Restrooms, five RV sites, and seven tent sites. Call 503-965-5001 for reservations.

▲ Yurts and Cabins

“Rough it” in a yurt at Nehalem Bay State Park, Cape Lookout State Park, Barview Jetty County Campground, or at the private Yurt on the Bay in Bay City. Tillamook Bay RV Park recently added new yurts to their site as well.

The two state parks also have small cabins perched in the trees overlooking the ocean – just bring your bedding.

▼ Glamping

Camp, Glamp or Airstream? Take your pick.

Some campers prefer a sleeping bag with nothing but the ground beneath and the stars above. Others opt for a tent, or the back of a VW van, even a hammock hung between pine trees. But camping doesn't have to be primitive or bare bones. On the Tillamook Coast, camping options range from tent sites to Airstream trailers.

If glamping is more your style, then glamp we have. Hart's Camp in Pacific City makes your Airstream dreams come true. Each one comes with a firepit, bikes and outdoor shower, and best of all, the camp is just steps away from the beach and Pelican Brewery.

on the
Tillamook Coast

Whether you're looking for adventure, a restful retreat, venturing solo or bringing the whole family, the Tillamook Coast has something in store for your traveling style.

Outdoor Explorers

You're the one who's consistently looking for the next big thrill in the great outdoors. Bring on the trails, sails, caves, and waves.

Cultural Traveler

As a cultural retireater, your vacation centers around history, art, and heritage of wherever you go. So go ahead, paint the local landscape, travel back in time, and learn all about what makes the Tillamook Coast such a special place.

Restful Retreater

Everyone needs a break, and that's exactly what you seek during your time away. The Tillamook Coast is the perfect place to recharge. With breathtaking views, and miles of sand to walk, sometimes we even have a hard time getting work done.

Coastal Shopper

A boring souvenir is not your style. As a Coastal Shopper, you love local shops where you can buy one-of-a-kind mementos.

Family Adventures

A family adventurer is never alone: you travel in a pack. Activities approved for all-ages are your go-tos. And don't worry, if you consider Fido a family member too, there are plenty of canine friendly outings here at the Coast.

If outlet malls leave you cold and big box stores make you irritable, consider the unique boutique shops of Manzanita. Laneda Avenue is lined with locally-owned specialty shops. Finnesterre's inventory includes art, wine glasses, serving bowls, furniture, rugs and jewelry. You can find pet-related items such as dog blankets, toys and apparel at Paws on the Beach. Cloud & Leaf Bookstore, where the motto is, "We believe in the printed page," carries an eclectic selection of fiction and nonfiction for all ages.

It's become a tradition. If the Dutch bike is parked outside the shop, you know the storeowner is in. Deborah Reed's Cloud & Leaf Bookstore is a quaint, but carefully curated inventory.

"The staff is all very well read, and very knowledgeable," Reed said. "We're really good at offering recommendations. The bookstore serves as a nucleus for this community for literature."

The store features a variety of literature genres as well as a section highlighting local and Oregon authors.

"The bookstore has a reputation for surprising people for its selection and for being so well done," Reed said. "People will be surprised about the quality of the books we offer."

But, the connection with the storeowner is what draws customers back.

"I love being able to share whatever knowledge I have about books and see people get started on a new book. Or when people come back in and loved a book that I recommended and want another one," Reed said. "A relationship of trust is established."

For all things food, kick off your day with an egg breakfast at Yolk. Then, enjoy everything from fine dining at Neahkahnie Bistro, to casual dining at Bread and Ocean, fresh seafood at Big Wave Café, and healthy Mexican food at Left Coast Siesta. Hit the later-night hangout with the locals at MacGregor's Whiskey Bar, or the San Dune Pub and order some fish tacos that have been ranked among the 10 best on the coast. Or enjoy wine around a warm fire at Winery at Manzanita.

▼ Family Adventures

Manzanita weather is perfect. Spend a day at the beach with the sun, while other areas of the Oregon Coast are covered in clouds. Snack on old-fashioned candy from Manzanita Sweets, rent beach bikes with the kids, and then pick up a new board game for the night at Toylandia. Pack up the van for a family-getaway. And don't worry Dad: can't find a parking spot at one of the larger hustling, bustling, and crowded beach towns? We've saved you a spot.

▼ Outdoor Explorers

Did you know that Manzanita holds the title of having the third-most photographed scenery in all of Oregon? Maybe that's because you can get a picture of the scenery without too many beach bodies scattered throughout the shot. Manzanita is a walkable town, offering golfing, surfing, horseback riding, kayaking, paddle boarding and bicycle rentals.

Nature lovers, treasure hunters and history buffs will all get their fill hiking the impressive Neahkahnie Mountain. Legend has it that gold is buried somewhere between the base of the mountain and the top, carried ashore from a shipwrecked Spanish ship.

NEHALEM

Rock n' Roll Lives on

@ Nehalem Music

Remember the record store?

You know the one we mean. The one where you spent countless weekend hours flicking through bins of beautiful vinyl and reading liner notes.

If you miss the vibe of the classic music store, stop by Nehalem Music & Game for a most welcome blast from the past. Located at 35990 N Hwy 101 in Nehalem, the shop is crammed full of musical nostalgia: jacket patches, posters, jewelry, and of course, music. Lots of it, both vinyl and disc.

You'll find nearly the entire rock 'n' roll catalog, from AC/DC to ZZ Top and everything in between.

And just in case you finally want to fully embrace your long-forgotten dream of becoming the next Stevie Ray Vaughan or Eddie Van Halen, the shop carries a wide variety of guitars, amps and other music accessories.

They even offer lessons.

▼ Culinary Connoisseur

Fuel up with a breakfast at Wanda's Cafe before you start your coastal adventure. After poking around the various downtown shops, spend some time at the Nehalem Bay Winery. When it's time for dinner, The Pizza Garden offers up traditional New York style pizza, as well as other Italian fares such as shrimp fettuccini and vegetarian lasagna. The restaurant sits right on the bay with incredible views, and is a perfect spot to watch the sunset. Finish your day with a scoop of gourmet Sour Cream Strawberry Rhubarb ice cream at Buttercup.

▼ Coastal Shopper

Go on an antique hunt in Nehalem. With several shops to browse, you'll be sure find your new favorite treasure, clothing, or piece of nature. Angelina's keeps your wardrobe updated.

▲ Cultural Travelers

Nehalem Bay is as unique as the Salish Indian tribe it was named after. Nehalem means "where the people live." So, experience how the people now live by stopping by the North County Recreation District. Get in your daily workout, take an art class, or relax with yoga. Or, slow down and drink Tillamook Coast-grown tea at North Fork 53 Farm and Retreat Center.

▲ Outdoor Explorers

Rent a floating house where you can dock your boat after a delightful day of fishing on the Nehalem River. Boat rentals are also available, as well as guided tours, including stand-up paddleboarding. Be sure to check out the large curving beaches and bayfront of Nehalem Bay State Park, where you can visit for a day or spend a night or week camping.

WHEELER

Paranormal Hotspot meet the “permanents”

According to the owner and many others, the Old Wheeler Hotel, which includes eight guestrooms with bay views upstairs along Highway 101, is a hotspot of spectral activity.

Built in 1920, the hotel did brisk business during Wheeler's lumber boom following construction of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company railroad in 1911, which allowed local mills to ship their product inland. The building later served as a nationally renowned, experimental arthritis clinic and a rural hospital before eventually being renovated to serve as a hotel again.

The owner describes that resident ghosts, or “permanents,” as she prefers to call them, include one that enjoys watching television in Room No. 3, as evidenced by the small indentation he leaves on the side of the bed in that room, and the fact that guests have reported the TV inexplicably coming on in the middle of the night, and showing old black-and-white @ movies.

Outdoor Explorers

The sunsets here are stunning, and Wheeler on the Bay Lodge gives visitors a perfect vantage point to enjoy them on their adjacent dock. The rooms here are well appointed and cozy, they also offer free kayak rentals. Of course, don't forget to try your hand at some fishing. You can dock your boat at the lodge and walk up to your room. Wheeler Marina rents kayaks and boats too! Or walk over to the Railriders Cycling, and ride the rail bikes.

Restful Retreaters

Welcome to the little town with the million-dollar view. This picturesque little fishing village, situated on the beautiful Nehalem Bay, lends itself to rest and relaxation. The calming views overlooking the bay and its surrounding hills are surreal.

The city itself is comprised of a string of historic buildings nestled together on the edge of the bay, a reflection of its railroad and fish packing days. And at Trillium, you'll find that one-of-a-kind piece of jewelry, made by regional artists.

Culinary Connoisseur

Just like the fish, you need to grab a bite too. Pick up a fresh pastry from Handy Creek Bakery, or stick around for a café-style breakfast. Grab a coffee at The Roost. Or enjoy a meal and drink near the waterside at the award-winning Salmonberry Saloon.

While on vacation

Thinking about that annual holiday card? This year, we want you to capture the beautiful Tillamook Coast in your background. With several local, talented photographers in the area, you and your family will not only achieve the perfect holiday card photo, but make a great memory.

Where should I go to capture that photo?

Local photographer Xiomara Gard has 10 years experience shooting on the Coast and recommends scouting out a beach that isn't busy. At popular beaches, you'll have to work really hard to get the ideal backdrop, without any extras.

"My favorite is finding a beach that is both ocean and forest and that's nice so that they always have something to pick from," Gard said.

Don't have a specific location in mind? No worries, us locals all have our favorites and we're happy to recommend one for you.

The backdrop is not nearly as important as the people in the photo.

"My goal with family portraits is to create memories for them," Gard said. "Pick a location that's memorable to you...a beach you have been coming to and have memories at."

Should we all be color-coordinated?

When dressing your family, stay in the neutral family. Gard recommends thinking about what colors will go well with the rest of your home's décor.

"These photos shouldn't be stuck on a CD or USB drive...these are meant to be on wall or on a beautiful canvas."

Should I bring my dog?

"I get that pets are another extension of your family," Gard said. But, she highly recommends that someone else come along to take care of the dog so that Fido is safe and out of harm's way when it's time for a human-only photo.

Plan ahead

Many of our local photographers book weddings and portraits, but you'll need to plan ahead.

"Just as you would book ahead for your hotel, that's about the same time you should be calling," Gard said.

▼ Family Adventures

With seven miles of sandy beach, and more than 100 vacation rental houses and 200 hotel rooms to choose from, there is no lack of things to do and places to stay in family friendly Rockaway Beach. The beachfront here is what coastal dreams are made of. Enjoy beachcombing, metal detecting, kite flying (there is an annual kite festival in August), shopping at Warehouse 10, or a peaceful sunset walk. Take a ride on the historic Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad for sights tucked away from the highway.

▼ Outdoor Explorers

Explore numerous intertidal pools where you may see colored starfish varying from lavender to gold. Nearby, Kelly's Brighton Marina and Jetty Fishery offers crabbing and fishing galore. Or, take a walk through the Old Growth Cedar Trail. Strolling through town is just as fun, with oodles of shops featuring traditional beach fare, ice cream, antiques and prized mementos.

Troxel's Gem and Jewelry Company in Rockaway Beach carries jewelry and loose gemstones and also makes custom jewelry. Some of those creations come from stones that customers have found, or in the rock garden next to the shop.

If that interests you, consider brushing up on rockhounding, a hobby that's been growing in popularity in recent years.

Next to the Troxel's store is a garden that is an ever-changing space of rock-lined pathways where visitors can sit, stroll and – if desired – pick rough stones and choose the price to pay for them. It also contains a 24-hour mini-golf course, giving kids something to enjoy.

Troxel's also has a selection of fat bikes for the beach available for rent.

Outdoor Explorers

Relax as you watch commercial and recreational fishers hoist their catches of Dungeness crab, ling cod, rock fish, and even the occasional octopus onto the docks of the Garibaldi Pier, just as they have for many decades. To get a more up close and personal view, hire a fishing guide and catch your dinner, or spend the day kayaking.

Do you like fresh seafood? No, we mean really fresh. Like, from ocean to plate in a few steps fresh. Eat where the fisherman bring in their catch: Garibaldi. Order some fish and chips from the the Fisherman's Korner, or take home fish of the Tillamook Coast by purchasing products from The Spot, Source, or Fishpeople Seafood. Rather have food from the land? Pop over to the family-owned Garibaldi Portside Bistro where they specialize in BBQ. Bring home a local coffee roast from Garibaldi Roasting Company and brew memories of the Tillamook Coast at home.

Cultural Travelers

Pier's End Boathouse is worth a visit, not only because it offers a unique vantage point for viewing Tillamook Bay, but because the decommissioned U.S. Coast Guard lifeboat station represents the region's maritime history. Then, head down the street to get some background info on what you just saw at the Garibaldi Maritime Museum. When the dinner bell rings, climb aboard the Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad and enjoy a dinner train on a historic steam locomotive.

"Pop!" goes the starter gun, and—they're off! Six pink Dungeness crabs, clawing and crawling their way as fast as they can to the finish line. Behind each crustacean, their sponsors cheer, cajole and counsel each crab on to a win at the Garibaldi Crab Races in March.

Though they started as a way for locals to get together during the rainy days of winter, the Garibaldi Crab Races are now into their third decade and have matured into so much more than just a distraction from the cold. With the spirit of tongue-in-cheek fun, the Garibaldi community welcomes people from all over the world to this annual event. Competitors have the chance to sponsor a racing crab or to taste delicacies made from crab caught along the Tillamook Coast.

Throughout the two-day event, 500 crabs compete in more than 100 heats, giving everyone a chance to join in on the fun.

Experience the fisheries

Tillamook's working coastline

Thirty years ago, Jeffrey and Valerie Folkema purchased the Garibaldi Marina and have been working ever since to create added value and experiences for visitors to the fishing community.

In addition to moorage and boat rentals, the Garibaldi Marina offers visitors a glimpse into the working landscape of the Tillamook Coast.

“People don’t have to enjoy fishing to enjoy watching fish be loaded off a boat,” Valerie said. “People are tickled pink when they see something that they’ve never seen before while they’re on vacation.”

The Folkemas believe that exposing visitors to the working side of tourism makes people more aware of their impact.

“There are experiences that people can have that they’ll leave with the impression of how to be good stewards,” Valerie said. “Eat the abundance, see where your food is grown, and be a participant in that story.”

Shop at the Dock events, hosted at the Garibaldi Marina, are the perfect way for visitors to get an inside look at the fishing industry. Tours of local, commercial fisheries are offered March through September, and fresh seafood can be purchased directly off the boats. The tours are free, but registration is required as space is limited.

“Visitors feel more cemented because you’ve allowed them to be part of a lifestyle that they don’t have,” Valerie said. “We’re not just showing the pretty side, but people can come out here and get dirty and volunteer to learn how to farm, how to fish.”

And Valerie adds that experiences can be just as valuable and memorable as a souvenir.

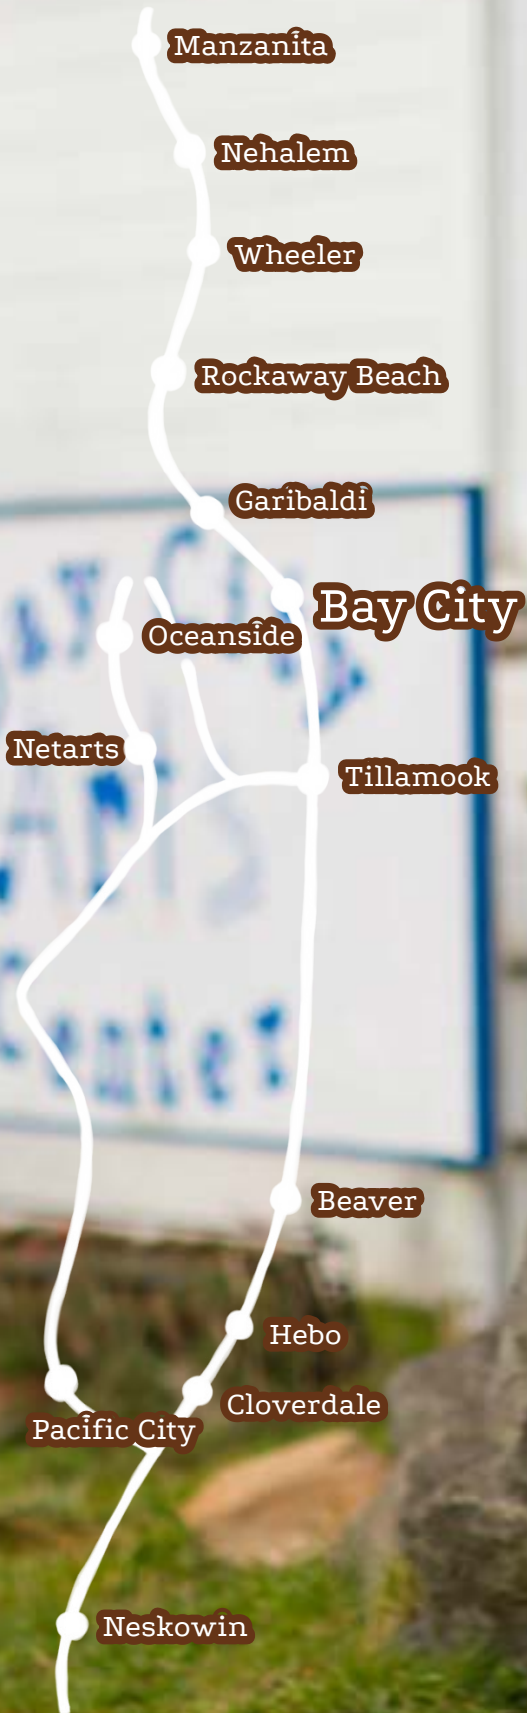

“Come here, not to just extract something or take home driftwood, but to learn something, to experience fishing and crabbing. It’s about more than just coming and taking stuff.”

Shop for that ‘coastal feel’

So, you stayed in that perfect, little beach cottage this summer. You know, the one right on the beach with the salty air lofting through the windows. The one you where you made memories. The place that you wanted to take home with you.

And what if you could? What if, while waiting for your next beach retreat, you could give your home that coastal feel?

We’ve talked to some of our local, coastal design experts and here’s what they had to say:

Inspiration

Designing and decorating can be overwhelming. So where do you start?

“Do some introspection by writing down three things that you either did or really loved about the beach and build off that,” Morgan Motsinger of Lot 35 Homes Construction + Design said. “Think about the way it felt to be at the beach and incorporate things that help you remember that feeling. My goal in getting that coastal feel is to not do really obvious choices like pictures of lighthouses or jars of sand. But instead, do what it feels like to be at the beach.”

Colors

Motsinger says that whites and tans are helpful for establishing a base and achieving that “light and airy” look.

“A lot of white feels like the beach to me, with the sunshine.” And surprise pops of color will give the space its appeal.

President of Roby’s Furniture, Andrea Langeliers, recommends that you look outside and see what you’re trying to recreate.

“If you go and look at a tidepool you can capture a wonderful color palette.”

Choose corals, oranges, green, and shades of blue as accent colors in throw pillows, artwork, and drapes.

Texture

No need to redecorate your whole house to remind yourself of the beach. Textures can easily transform a space. Natural, fiber rugs and thick, cozy croqueted blankets are quick and simple additions to any home.

Jennifer Robitsch, owner of Madeline’s Vintage Marketplace in Tillamook, says that you can mix a lot of different looks to achieve that desired beachy feel.

“You can even go contemporary: you can add golds and glass to go upscale.”

Add don’t forget foliage of the area. It will “give you another level of texture.”

Souvenirs

Langeliers says obvious beach décor does have a place, just don’t overdo it. Pick one or two items and incorporate them into your space. “A single shell or a starfish or bedspread that has those designs on it will do.”

For inspiration, stay at a cozy Tillamook Coast B&B, with decor that captures the spirit of the beach and our unique region!

Love Story of the Netarts Terimore Motel

“We were happy whenever we could be together,” Ben Nunez said as he looked around Room #8 at the Terimore Motel.

It was the same room he and his wife, Priscilla, had stayed in decades ago when they first visited the Oregon Coast together. Now, owner of that same motel, it's filled with memories of his late wife Priscilla and her giving spirit.

Over the years, Ben and Priscilla saw generations return year after year to Netarts, and hosted a fair number of weddings. The bride and groom often return to the Terimore to celebrate their anniversary.

Priscilla passed away in 2008, but the stories of Terimore often reflect her generous character.

Priscilla would often find stray animals and put ads in the newspaper so people could adopt them. She'd offer rooms to the homeless for small tasks they would do around the motel.

“People say to me, the Terimore has something,” said Ben.

A place built on love.

Outdoor Explorers

Along the Three Capes Scenic Route are the bayfront communities of Netarts and Oceanside. Home to spectacular headlands and a pristine beachfront, visitors come to Netarts for its unmarred beauty and the invigorating outdoor activities it offers: crabbing, fishing, clamming, and even scuba diving. Didn't get your crab today? Pick a live one from the tank at the historic general store on Crab Avenue.

Less than a half mile away is Three Arch Rocks National Wildlife Refuge, the first National Wildlife Refuge established west of the Mississippi. Three Arch Rocks hosts the only site on the North Coast for pupping sea lions. It is also home to the largest breeding colony of tufted puffins, recognizable by their orange beaks and long yellow heads.

Culinary Connoisseur

Specializing in farm-to-table and sea-to-table, The Schooner Restaurant & Lounge in Netarts serves delicious meals using the freshest local and seasonal ingredients. It is also popular for its outdoor grill, seating with spectacular views, and its full bar, which includes an extensive wine cellar. Foodies will enjoy visiting Jacobsen Salt Company on Netarts Bay, where you can purchase gourmet sea salt from the source.

The Blue Agate Café is one of the Tillamook Coast's best-kept secrets for breakfast. Order a cup of coffee, snuggle up to a window, and watch the waves crash on the shore as you wait for your freshly prepared meal. The village restaurant, Roseanna's Café, provides spectacular views from its windows.

Restful Retreater

Oceanside is built upon a steep hillside that overlooks the beachfront and offers stunning views of the Pacific Ocean. As you walk along the beach, you will discover a tunnel through one of the vertical sea cliffs leading to yet another beautiful beach to explore. A gas fireplace is located next to modern and colorful seats with a flat-screen television mounted overhead, if you can tear yourself away from your private balcony.

Headlands Coastal Lodge & Spa

▼ Outdoor Explorers

Pacific City, Oregon is home to breathtaking views of Haystack Rock from the wide beach at Cape Kiwanda. Pacific City has been home to the Dory Fishing Fleet, the only one of its kind in the lower 48 states. The fishermen launch and land their boats from the beach, bringing their ocean catch in to local restaurants.

Cape Kiwanda occupies a swath of beach in Pacific City that is stunningly beautiful. Comprised of sandstone as opposed to basalt, Cape Kiwanda is a photogenic oddity on the Oregon Coast. Now, there aren't miles of trail to be explored, but this isn't your typical beach stroll either.

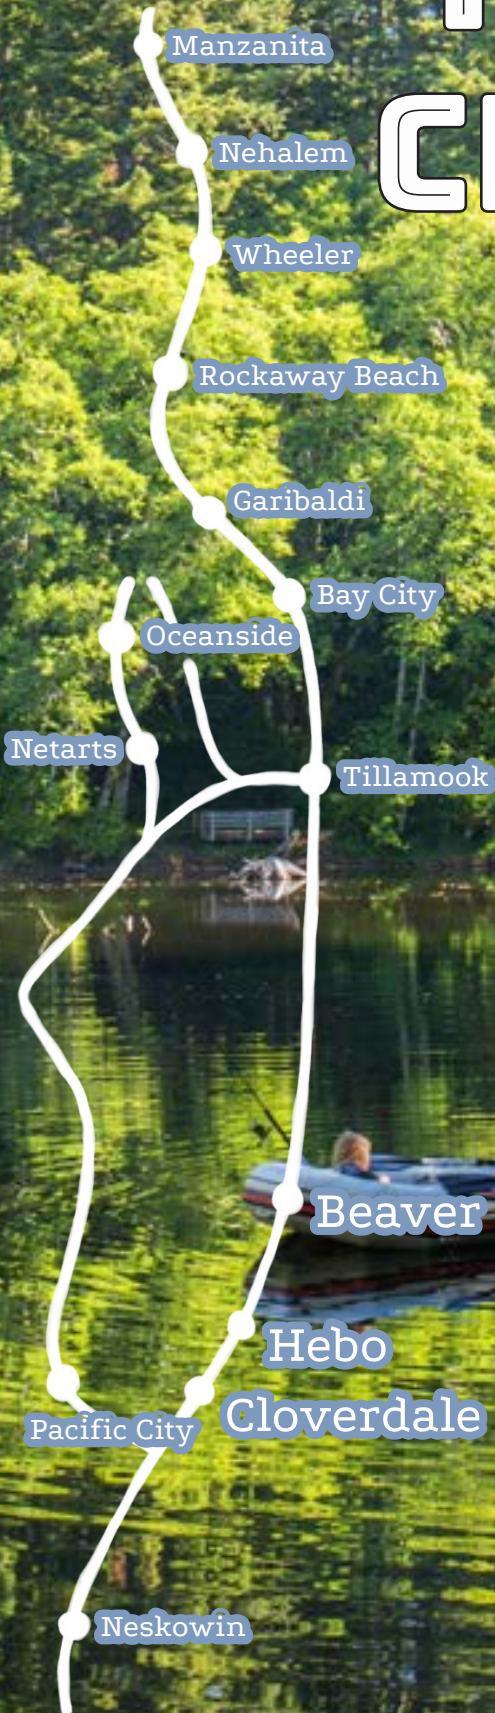

By starting at the Pacific Avenue Trailhead, you can enjoy a roughly two mile out and back hike that explores a scenic stretch of beach that approaches the cape from the south. Vehicles are not allowed on the stretch leading up to Cape Kiwanda.

As you near the large, sandstone bluffs of the cape, watch for doryman launching boats. Ascend the Great Dune and take in the views along the top of the cape.

The vibrant orange and yellow hued sandstone cliffs have eroded into a number of curious and photo-worthy patterns over the years, and you could spend a long time taking it all in. There are a number of desirable vantages, just make sure to stay behind the fenced areas and abide by all signage.

History of Mt. Hebo

From military base to campsite

Today, few traces remain of Mt. Hebo's days as a Cold War-era U.S. military station.

However, from 1956 until 1980, Mt. Hebo was home to a U.S. Air Force General Surveillance Radar Station, a long-range radar installation, with 4,000 people serving there over the years. The purpose of the station, which worked in conjunction with McChord Air Force Base in Washington, D.C., was to prevent the USSR from attacking the region by air.

These days, as part of the Siuslaw National Forest, the 3,100-foot-tall mountain is better known for its camping, hiking, horseback riding and fishing opportunities, not to mention its views. None of the Air Force buildings remain.

Part of the Coast Range, Mt. Hebo straddles the Tillamook and Yamhill County lines and offers 360-degree vistas from its summit, which is accessed by an 8-mile forest service road from the community of Hebo. The U.S. Forest Service, which occupies offices at the base of the mountain, manages the area.

Outdoor Explorers

Using old Native American paths, settlers in Tillamook County constructed a trail at Mt Hebo. An eight-mile section of the original pioneer trail remains and is great for both hiking and horseback riding. A nearby campground is great for tent camping, with a nearby lake stocked with rainbow trout and catfish. Rafter, canoers, kayakers and other paddlers are welcome on the lake.

Restful Retreater

There was a time when people didn't camp in tents anymore. So instead, auto camps started popping up. These camps were little cabins where you could park your Model T outside. Travelers passing through Beaver can have that same nostalgic experience. Becker's Cabins Auto Camp rentals feature vintage decor, including iron beds and bent willow furniture, and full kitchens.

Coastal Shoppers

In Cloverdale, get a taste of nostalgia at Katie's Korner soda factory. After savoring the bubbles and fizz, visit the Rusty Cow just next door where you'll find antiques, a massage room and a hair salon. Under the same roof is Thomas Goodwin's Art Gallery. This area is really your one-stop-shop. BJ's Fabrics is a mecca for quilters and textile fans. Stop for cheese and ice cream at the Nestucca Bay Creamery Store.

Family Adventures

You can stay at a hotel, and so can your family's horse! At Crazy A's Horse Hotel in Cloverdale they'll take great care of your hoofed friend. They'll need the rest after riding around the 484 acres at Bob Straub State Park. But, maybe your family prefers something with a motor. Visitors come from miles around to enjoy Sand Lake Recreation Area, where you can enjoy driving an all-terrain vehicle.

NESKOWIN

Neskowin Ghost Forest

The Tillamook Coast is spectacular no matter what the season, but winter is the only time you are likely to glimpse the Neskowin Ghost Forest.

The petrified remains of roughly 100 Sitka spruce trees are more than 2,000 years old and only visible during the lowest December, January and February tides.

Before the late 1990s, the stumps were mere local legend, with longtime south Tillamook County residents saying they only emerged once every several decades, and then only briefly. However, since the winter of 1998, the barnacle-encrusted Ghost Forest has reliably returned year after year.

In their prime, the trees would have been enormous, towering 150 to 200 feet tall. Experts say the spruces were initially buried as a result of a massive earthquake plunging higher ground to below sea level. A subsequent tsunami most likely then enveloped the trees in sand.

▼ Family Adventures

Golfing on a historic course and Fourth of July celebrations are all fun attractions for visitors to Neskowin. During the summer, the community hosts family gatherings, croquet matches and other fun experiences. Launch your canoe or kayak through the pristine bird estuary of Nestucca Bay.

▼ Restful Retreater

Neskowin is a charming coastal village with a friendly neighborhood feel and magnificent natural setting. The wide, three-mile beach is rarely crowded allowing visitors to rejuvenate. Neskowin Beach Golf Course has been a favorite for years. The nine-hole course has a charming clubhouse where locals gather for coffee and chat. And the view from the seventh tee is spectacular!

Cafe at Hawk Creek

▲ Culinary Connoisseur

The Café at Hawk Creek is a popular choice featuring a wood-fired, brick pizza oven, deck seating, and views of Proposal Rock. Make your own picnic with gourmet groceries and a fine selection of wine, beer and beverages found at Beach Club Bistro at Neskowin Trading Company.

Driving to the Tillamook Coast

The Tillamook Coast is just 73 miles from Portland. You can reach the region several ways: Highway 26 to 101, and turn south; Highway 26 to Highway 6, taking you through the Tillamook Forest and into the center of downtown Tillamook; or Highway 22 or Highway 18 from Salem and Corvallis. You can also reach it from Newport and Lincoln City - just head north on Highway 101.

For Fans of Fly-Ins

Tillamook County has three airports: Pacific City (runway 1,875 feet long), Tillamook (two runways -5,001 feet long and 2,900 feet long), and Nehalem Bay State Park (runway 2,350 long). For more information, go to tillamookcoast.com/airports

Bus service through The Wave

The Wave provides passenger bus and dial-a-ride services county-wide as far north to Cannon Beach, south to Lincoln City, west to Pacific City and east to Portland. The Tillamook County Transportation District (TCTD) also offers intercity bus service to Portland, Oregon with regional connections. Buses have a two-bike capacity and are ADA-accessible with a wheelchair lift.
